Daniel Callahan, employed at the Falls River & Machine Company was fatally injured last night. He struck a torpedo with his hammer and his skull was fractured.

We had to do it

Our Overcoat stock was completely demolished.

WE HAD NO FIRE

But we had an enormous trade on Overcoats. It seems as though everybody wants to be dressed fashionably this winter, and they all know that we are fashionable clothiers.

We had to buy more, and buying overcoats as late in the season as we did, we got 'em cheap, and we are going to give you the benefit of our successful purchase.

Call and see the all-wool Oxford Coat we are selling for..... $7.50

SHUMAKER & CO.*117 S. Howard st.*Barberton

(Special Correspondence.)

Barberton, Nov. 16.—A great deal of interest is being taken in the difficulties met by the projectors of the scheme to run the N. O. T. tracks into Barberton. Third st. is the only logical route into the village, being in almost a direct line from the proposed crossing of the Erie tracks to the heart of the village.

The projectors have met with decided opposition on the part of certain property owners on Third st., but it is understood that they have asked the co-operation of others owning property on that street.

This, with the land near the lake fronting on Third st., owned by the Land company, will probably make the passage of the new road safe.

Some residents on this street were of the opinion that a majority of the residents in opposition to the project, could defeat it.

It is understood now, however, that if the owners of a majority of the frontage on the street are favorable, the road may be put in. This is where the Land company, with its large holdings near Lake Anna, is to hold the foot for the projectors of the new line.

The management of the Inn has been changed, the new manager assuming possession this morning. Mr. W. A. Tilton, formerly manager of the Buettel hotel at Akron, and a man of experience and ability, will guide the fortunes of the Inn for some time. Much regret is experienced at the departure of Mr. John Thrall, the former manager, who made many friends in Barberton.

Nelson George, a young man of about 24 years, died last night at his apartments in the Mohler block, of typhoid fever, after several weeks' illness. Mr. Nelson's home was in Barberton, but he had been employed in Barberton for some time past. His parents were with him when the end came. The remains were taken to Barberton today, where the funeral will be held.

CHURCH FAIR.

The opening of St. Vincent's church fair in Music Hall Thursday evening was well attended, the large hall being comfortably filled.

The program under the direction of Rev. Dr. Thomas F. Mahar, was highly appreciated and each number won hearty applause.

A feature of the fair will be the contest between Mr. Hugh Garrity and Mr. Andrew Weibel. The one receiving the highest number of votes as popular man will receive a fine XX Century furnace; the donation of Messrs. Clerklin & Mang.

A "Jewel" heating stove by May & Flebeger, a gas grate by the Jahant Company; a gas range, by the Pouchot, Hunsicker & Co., have been donated and will also be given as prizes in various contests.

Several booths handsomely decorated, have been erected where all kinds of useful and ornamental articles can be purchased.

The ladies are serving dinners each day of the fair in the hall. A large number of people patronized the tables Thursday and Friday.

A fine program is arranged for tonight's entertainment.

Shelby Line up.
